ARMY RESERVE UNIT CHANGE IN PROSPECT

The single Army Reserve unit here, Co. A of the 313th Infantry, with a roster of 135 active reservists, is one of the 727 units in the 21st Army Corps area affected in a reorganization announced today at Indiantown Gap by Maj. Gen. H. P. Vander Heide, corps commander

The reorganization of the area is expected to be completed by the end of July. The program carried out a previously announced decision of the Department of the Army and is designed to modernize and streamline the Reserve to make it more effective and more mobile.

The local unit will be replaced by a new pentomic unit, a rifle company of a 79th Division battle group, when the division, commanded by Maj. Gen. J. Calvin Frank, Harrisburg, is reorganized.

Definitely Stronger

I believe we are definitely stronger with the addition of three outstanding rookies, all of whom figure in our 1959 plans. They are outfielder John Callison, a 19year-old left handed hitter who joined us late in the season and 12 runs. This showing with us, as well as his season long play at Indianapolis where he hit .283 and led the league with 29 home runs, leads us to believe that he will be ready for major league compe-

The same goes for Barry Latman, a 22-year-old pitcher, who won three without a defeat for us, including a three-hit shutout.

Twist a valve on your range. Instantly a blue natural gas flame appears! Where did it come from? If your local distributor is supplied natural gas by Texas Eastern, that gas could have come from the wells on the bayous of Louisiana ... or from the rolling plains of Texas . . . or even from as far away as the brown hills of northeastern Mexico...via pipeline.

Texas Eastern's pipeline system stretches from Mexico to New York, passing through 15 states, There are more than 6,100 miles of pipe of varying sizes in the system. Sixty-one compressor stations, located every 50 to 75 miles, supply the horsepower required to move large volumes of gas through the lines. In addition, there are 417 special points where we buy gas for our pipeline and 114 points where the gas is sold to distributors.

Last year, more than 600 billion cubic feet of gas were delivered to distributors serving millions of homes and thousands of factories. Next year the quantity will be even greater.

To operate the 6,100 miles of pipeline, Texas Eastern requires the diversified talents of nearly 2,000 people: engineers, construction workers, chemists, mechanics, electricians, welders, oilers, compressor operators, communication and electronic experts, maintenance men, right-of-way men, accountants, and a whole host of clerical help.

Operation and maintenance of the system is continuous. Maintenance crews are stationed about every 100 miles along the pipeline. Because the pipeline, other than at the compressor stations, runs underground, the right-of-way is constantly patrolled. In congested areas, this is done on foot or by automobile; in other areas by airplane.

Keeping this giant system filled with gas is the responsibility of our gas supply section. These people contract with producers to obtain gas for transmission to markets. They have done their work so well that today our reserves - gas available for the future - total more than 12 trillion cubic feet and they are being increased every year.

The staff that manages the gas system and is responsible for all present and future planning has its headquarters in Shreveport, Louisiana.

From sun-up to sun-up, gas moves continuously silently and dependably through our pipelines from Mexico to New York so that any time, day or night - at your command - a warming gas flame can be brought to life.

There had been speculation that Nixon might strike out on his own to establish a position independ- Youth's Spending ent of the White House. But word passed to associates indicates he is giving his full support to Eisenhower's effort to hold down spending. He reportedly considers this a major campaign factor for 1960.

view to which Nixon obviously subscribes

Beyond that Nixon has made it clear he supports the Lincoln concept that Eisenhower frequently mentions — that the government should do for the people only what they can't do for themselves or can't do as well

All of this seems likely to put Nixon in a somewhat opposite position from his greatest potential rival for the nomination, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York.

Before Rockefeller became governor, the Rockefeller brothers fund which he helps to support issued a report that recommended, among other things, a higher level of defense spending than the $40,900,000,000 Eisenhower has outlined in his balanced 77-billionly behind this defense total.
